Concern from parent---Change for prizes????

I followed up with Pat with where we are at with wreath sales. We have a few past purchasers to get to still, but we are already at 30 items and she estimates from the past, that the amount towards our fundraising goal will be about $185. I'll probably make another $20 donation towards marathon so then for fall fundraising we have met approximately $400 of our $600 total.

All this, and according to "the marathon rules", my boys will still not get a Plinko turn, which is what they keep asking me- "how many turns do we get?" I don't care about the Plinko, but because they do and I can't imagine we're the only family in the school in this situation, I feel the need to advocate for a change for the future. I appreciate you making an exception and giving the boys their t-shirts early and I am not asking you to make another exception when it comes to the Plinko turns. I am a "rule-follower" and I try to teach my boys the same, especially when it comes to being rewarded for following the rules.

What I am asking you to consider for the future, is that there are Fall and Spring fundraisers and Fall and Spring Rewards. Meaning, Marathon and Wreaths are totaled together and based on that amount, students are rewarded accordingly. Likewise in the spring, there is the read-a-thon and the plant sale, and rewards would be given based on the outcome of the two of them. For example, this year Marathon money is due Thursday so rewards are given Friday, which because Nov 1 is Sunday, wreath orders are either due that Friday or Monday the 2nd...? So, why couldn't fundraising totals be combined and treats given the following Friday?
